“The children of today will make the India of tomorrow”

Pandit Jawahar Lal Nehru also adorably called ‘ Chacha Nehru’ was the first Prime Minister of independent India. He loved children and so after his demise his birthday is celebrated as ‘Children’s Day’. He was a leader, politician and writer too. He was great advocate of children’s rights and for an all-inclusive education system where knowledge is accessible to all.

To commemorate his birth anniversary a special assembly was conducted. Madam Principal addressed the students giving valuable information about ‘Chacha Nehruji’ and why we celebrate ‘Children’s Day’. She also laid the stress on the importance of education and that children are the future of our country. This was followed by a beautiful song on children and a fun –filled foot –tapping dance by the teachers. ‘Thought for the day’ and information about Nehruji was also a part of the assembly. Students were overwhelmed to see their teachers performing on the stage and enjoyed it thoroughly.
